the future of drainage

PORTFOLIO

Sunset Strip West Hollywood, CA

The West Hollywood area, also known as the Sunset Strip, is filled with live music venues, restaurants, and shops. The area has been expanding and has a population of over 35,000 residents.

Project Design Brief

Spring Water seeping out of the ground was creating a hazard to local residents and motorists. The water was running across roads and collecting at the curb. Large amounts of moss were creating a slip hazard to residents and traffic. The goal was to find a solution to keep water off of the road surface to eliminate ponding and moss growth.
