Project Design Brief

Since StormBrixx® is 95% storage efficient, the entire 4,500ft³ system fit into less space than the original HDPE system. One layer of StormBrixx® HD modules in two detention areas allow the system to provide the required storage volume and fit in the landscape area available. The new design required 50% less excavation on site. Since the system needed to be installed during the winter, with snow on the ground, an easy to install system was a big advantage.

Benefits

- The system is modular, lightweight and requires no heavy equipment for installation or rock for structural stability.
- The system is stackable in increments of 2' and access units are designed to fit within the system using layer connectors.
