PORTFOLIO

Project Design Brief

Initially, a competitor's product was specified, but owing to footprint constraints, the engineers decided to change to ACO StormBrixx® SD. StormBrixx® SD is fully certified for HS20, and the column design allows loads to be readily absorbed while being driven on. StormBrixx® SD is the perfect size given the depth requirements and contributed to reduce the overall footprint.

Benefits

- Because StormBrixx® SD is lightweight, the system was installed fast and effortlessly, lowering operation costs.
- Easy access into the StormBrixx® system minimizes long term maintenance costs.
