Sport System 4000, black longitudinal ADA grates

During the Nationals' annual ballpark tour for members of the media on Tuesday, the team provided a few details about the MGM National Harbor Dugout Club, the new field-level seating section constructed beyond the dugout on the first-base side.

The section, which occupies the space where the tarp used to be stored during games, features eight luxury seats, televisions, a personal attendant, private restrooms and a dedicated entrance adjacent to the First Base Gates. The Nationals are working with MGM on an all-inclusive menu inspired by the fare available at MGM National Harbor.
